ANTONIA DIXON
James would probably know more about the criminal justice system than I do.
... "The person who seems to know what's best for him?"
James: "Sometimes. He has insight into all sorts of things, but there are a lot of parameters he doesn't have insight into."
... "Moore referred to comments Dixon made to other psychiatrists - that he planned to appear in court wearing a nightgown, and that in prison he saw a ghost called Nil."
... "The problem is, Moore...
